In today's belt-tightened economy — when even major corporations are scrutinizing the effectiveness of outsourced consultants more closely than ever — organizations like AT&T, Coca Cola, Delta Air Lines, Hewlett-Packard, IBM and Wachovia Bank call in Ava Diamond with barely a second thought.

How does Ava earn their repeat business? Because keynote after keynote, workshop after workshop, she consistently delivers measurable results.

Ava dispenses a wealth of straightforward advice and guidance — down-to-earth, with generous helpings of common sense and real-world application.

She draws heavily on her own experience as a manager in a Fortune 100 high-tech company, as an educator, and as a successful entrepreneur in her own right.

The benefits of an Ava Diamond-led keynote, team workshop or company-wide presentation are immediate, measurable, visible — and they have legs.

You'll see it in your employees'

- ▶ Increased job performance that ultimately falls to the bottom line
- ▶ Greater adaptability to sudden or relentless change
- ▶ Acceptance of diversity among co-workers, and a new-found ability to convert those differences to productive energy
- ▶ Enhanced problem-solving skills, both on an individual level and in teams

Her ability to "connect" with people is key to Ava's success.

It's a rare talent to be able to teach, sustain interest and entertain all at the same time. Earning the trust of learners takes a personality that's genuine, empathetic, fun loving and confident.

Ava's been blessed with those traits and then some.

But beneath her breezy style is solid substance. Her content is well researched and documented. Her anecdotes, examples and humorous stories etch valuable lessons in peoples' minds. She's gutsy, and willing to take risks to drive home important learning points.

And the frosting on the cake ... audiences like to learn from Ava because she makes learning a pleasure.

Whether it's a keynote, workshop, retreat or company-wide presentation, Ava Diamond delivers 10-carat results each time, every time.

Call her today. In one ten-minute conversation you'll realize why Ava Diamond enjoys the reputation she does with her many Blue Chip clients.

In her clients' own words...

"Wow! What a powerhouse presenter! Ava clearly has vast knowledge in the subject, and shares it in an interesting way."

– Quaker Oats

"Ava could not have been better! She gave me new insights and the tools to put them into practice. This is the best program I've been to in years!"

– IBM

"Great program, wonderful personality, excellent examples. She really encouraged participation without putting people on the spot."

– Coca Cola

"Good info presented in a great manner! Great speaker using humor, analogies, and conversation to present the material. She is the best speaker we've had in a long, long time."

– Boulder Community Hospital
